		This is a Grade II listed Building close to the bottom of Fore Street next to the Eight Bells P.H.. The bottom floor is used as a Solicitor's Office with a number of staff living in the two floors above. At present the only access to the flat is through the office which is not very satisfactory in practical terms or for escape in the event of fire. It is therefore proposed to erect a steel spherical stair case on the rear elevation and to replace an existing window at first floor level with french doors. The staircase would be in keeping with this type of building and Russ Craig has no objection. It is also understood that the fire officer has no objection.
