Twelve Apostles Church

Comment: The proposed fencing looks completely out of keeping with the building and the surrounding countryside which is in the Green Belt. The building is made of flint and is the material that the current fencing is made of, which could be repaired. The lights are not necessary, the church is already well lit and has a floodlight to illuminate the car park which dazzles and confuses car drivers as they travel towards Brookmans Park along Kentish Lane. A row of unnecessary lights would cause further confusion along Woodfield Lane and would be a traffic hazard.
