Comment Type: Observation

Comment: We are a little concerned about the building of the side extension as there is already a ground floor room on the side of the house and the wall of this forms part of the boundary between our 2 properties. If this wall is to be demolished and rebuilt our property will be insecure during this time. We would like this to be taken into consideration by the builders and owners and would want complete reassurance that our property and garden will at all times be left secure and in the same condition as it is found.
