Comment: Thank you for sight of this amended application. My comments are from a crime prevention perspective only. I have previously commented on this application and the amendments presented here do not materially change anything that I have said. The desire to prevent customers exiting the building and then crossing the busy A1 along the carriageway is all the more important given the fact that the main door now fronts onto the A1. If the application is successful, I would certainly expect the architect to make contact with me to discuss crime prevention matters that can be incorporated into the building. Gerry Brophy, Principal Crime Prevention Design Advisor, Hertfordshire Constabulary.
