Comments	<input type="text" value="Thank you for consulting The Gardens Trust, of which HGT is member. The Hook was a 19th century gentleman's estate and was planted with significant trees such as Wellingtonia. In addition we are aware of mature oaks and other trees from the Hook Wood part of the estate, which predates the designed landscape. We would suggest that, at the least, a comprehensive tree survey be undertaken and measure put in place to protect significant trees."/>
