Comments	<input type="text" value="I object to opening the square up to car access and removing trees and the amount of green space in the square for it to be turned into car parking. Hatfield train station multi-storey car park is less than 350m away. Hatfield house also has their own car park around 300m away. Why spoil a pleasant green space? I see the proposed picnic tables outside York House. Who wants to eat lunch in a car park? In the current climate we should be reducing our emissions and car use not encouraging it. Kind Regards, [REDACTED]"/>
