Comments	This development of the paddock will generate funds for the golf club to ensure its future and upgrade its clubhouse to provide function facilities for the local community as well as its members. It will also give the club the opportunity to develop world class practice and learning facilities to encourage more people young and old alike into sport and recreation. Contrary to many of the objectors this is not a new housing plan, the plan for 14 dwellings on the paddock site has been in the local authorities housing plan for many years now. The continued presence of the golf club will ensure the preservation of the spectacular green belt landscape much of which was laid out by the famous English landscape designer Humphrey Repton.
