Comments	<input type="text" value="Once again profit for a developer and the local council comes before local amenities. This land was promised to the residents of Hatfield back in 1999 for their use and well being. Section 106 of the original planning agreement for the airfield stated there would be a country park for the residents of Hatfield. The powers that be seem keen to renege on this to further their goals. There is already significant problems with the gravel extraction proposed. Bromate has been identified on the site so there is likely to be a potential issue with pollution to the local drinking water. The local roads are already heavily congested with traffic at peak times let alone having a potential 2.5K new cars plus all the lorries required for the gravel extraction on them. We live near the Ellenbrook and have serious concerns about flood water if the site is developed."/>
