Comments	Having lived in the village for 40 years, this development is far too large. The proposed gatehouses do not appear to have previous foundations. There are already two lodges-one of which has a dubious planning history. The house can be seen from quite a distance and the view will be much less open from places like the Northaw, Ridgeway. All green belt. The proposed new road is also going to spoil the site. Originally a lane for carriages. The proposed exit is on a small roundabout which causes great confusion and is hidden from the Potter Bar direction. The is insufficient room and it would spoil that area of the village. There is an exit already.
