Comments	<input type="text" value="The flats built that high will be an eyesaw so far how High they are now I think are high enough, when walking down Broadwater Road the light already is fading there due to them already being built. As a resident of Broadwater I feel these will be a hotspot for trouble in them. where is the garden city? All I am seeing is more and more houses flats being built not many places left to play with your children or walk your pets. Not to mention the strain already on our doctors and schools to add more and more flats there will be a huge strain even more on them which is really not fair on them already trying their best"/>
