Comments	<input type="text" value="After seeing the pdf plans of one of the proposed larger blocks, we feel that it does not fit with any part of other WGC housing. They lack originality in how a need for housing has been answered. And that ethos alone on how the architects have done this is greatly at odds with the basis of this wonderful garden city. Maybe less houses is a sad loss for profits, but more unique clever garden city style and class is a badge worn with pride over those profits."/>
