Comments	<input type="text" value="This was public land used for the public purpose. It is now being used to benefit private profit, with no social housing whatsoever. At a time when this council scrabbles about to find garage sites to cram housing into, why isnt this land at least being used to build council housing. At a time when the local plan process is being justified as a way to fund new schools being built, this former school site becoming another private housing scheme is simply a disgraceful case study in how the modern planning process fails to deliver for local communities."/>
