Comments	<input type="text" value="Developing brownfield sites is clearly sensible but these are not the kinds of homes we need, suitable for raising families in. A development of this nature - both height and density - is wildly out of keeping with the character of WGC and pushes us further towards being the kind of slum this town was created to break away from. If you want to build here you should build houses, for families, in line with Howard's principles."/>
