Comments	<input type="text" value="This is getting ridiculous - flats, flats, flats. Floor after floor going up everywhere. We are talking thousands of them which I just can not see being sold. So much for a Garden City, it is getting ruined by our town planners and developers. Obviously there is no infrastructure to support this but that aside, it is really a shame what's been done to this town. In 10 years from now, pulling into a so called Garden City on a train, you'd be literally surrounded by high rises. The town centre will not be a place that I would like to walk through after sundown."/>
