Comments	<input type="text" value="I think the plan is inappropriate for the location. The beauty of WGC lies in its open space, lawns and gardens. This plan is very cramped and resembles a very built up area of London. I think the best use of this land would be to build some terraced family homes with small gardens and each having at least one car parking space as well as some two bedroomed bungalows for older people who presently live in larger family homes. To build so many apartments with such inadequate parking is crazy. Parking is already difficult in WGC. 300 cycle spaces is a nonsense. What are families with children supposed to do? In addition the colour of brick seems very dark. I would feel sorry for people being crammed into those proposed units. I am not sure how services, facilities and schools are going to cope with all these extra residents. Phoning for a GP appointment can be a queue of anything around 40 people already! Please go back to the drawing board. Devise a more family friendly plan!"/>
