Hi Ashley,

Apologies.....Am I right in thinking that nothing has changed in terms on the Reserved Matters around refuse/recycling to which I objected and said that I did not discharge that condition?

I don't think any of the changes affect my original comments around drag distances as it seems more based around the parameter changes, heights of building and floor levels so if I am correct in that then I would not have any comments to make on those subjects. My objections remain as previously stated.

Thanks
Lorraine
