

Ack

RA

[REDACTED]

Sent: 27 April 2011 17:19
To: Planning
Cc: Louise Gosling
Subject: I support planning application N6/2010/2055/MA for Broadwater Road

To whom it may concern.

I support the planning application N6/2010/2055/MA for Broadwater Road.

I believe that Tesco's plans for regenerating Broadwater Road with new homes, jobs, a new Tesco store, swimming pool and a rebuilt footbridge to the rest of the town centre, can only be of benefit to Welwyn Garden City. I really cannot understand why there is so much opposition to Tesco's plans from people who appear to live mainly on the west side of the town! It won't affect their lifestyle, and they will still have Waitrose in the town centre, and soon there will be a huge Sainsburys, also in the town centre. Why not give some thought to those people who do not live near those two supermarkets? Those people who object to Tesco's plans do not need to shop at Tesco, any more than I shall be forced to shop at the new Sainsburys - I can choose. It has been mooted that Ebenezer Howard would 'turn in his grave' at Tesco's plans! I don't think he would have been too pleased at the massive new Sainsbury construction either. At the moment, the site which Tesco has plans for is just sheer 'Waste Land'. If Tesco are not given permission to develop this site, will the Council develop it? Have they sufficient money to do so in these 'Hard Times'?

We live in the 21st Century, and change is inevitable. Welwyn Garden City must keep abreast of change and not become an out of date backwater and turn down opportunities to vitalise the town.

May I refer you to an article in the Daily Telegraph dated Monday, 25 April, entitled 'It's time Tesco haters stocked up on facts' by [REDACTED]

Yours sincerely

[REDACTED]

Click here to report this email as spam.