Type	<input type="text" value="neighbour"/>
Comments	<input type="text" value="Brownfield sites should be exploited for extra housing in a way which is sympathetic to the surroundings and in keeping with the ethos and vision that was at the heart of the origin of a famous and revered Garden City. A building of nine storeys with very minimal green space and a housing density far above anything nearby is not in line with its surroundings. Parking spaces have not been adequately considered."/>
