Comments	<input type="text" value="Housing 852 people in a 9 storey building is not Welwyn Garden City style. There is a vision to integrate spirit of the town with 21st century design, not make the area highly developed and overpowering to existing buildings. The stark architecture of the proposed buildings does not represent the Georgian and art deco style which is found in Welwyn Garden City. Broadwater Road will additionally not be able to cope with the traffic that will congest it. The building will be overpowering and unnecessarily high."/>
