Comments	<input type="text" value="The plans are not in keeping with the Garden City ethos. The area around Broadwater Road already looks like an industrial estate and this would make it worse. The 9 storey buildings will stick out like a sore thumb! There are no plans for more schools or doctors so the overstretched services will be even more of a nightmare to use. Trying to cram so many people on such a small space cannot be considered Garden City like."/>
