Comments	<input type="text" value="Proposing to house 852 people in 289 units with a building height of 9 storeys would definitely contradict WHBC's own vision for Broadwater Road West which is to integrate the very best of 21st century design with the spirit of the Garden City. Because of its high density of homes and minimal greenery it is totally inappropriate for a world renowned Garden City whose architecture and planning is, among other things, designed to promote and protect the mental health of its citizens."/>
