Comments	<input type="text" value="This is an opportunity to create something unique, something to enhance the values of this special town on its anniversary. Instead, a few extraordinarily rich people will get even richer, commuters whose lives are really in London will snap up the flats and local families who just want a little house with a garden will get nothing. The monstrous eyesore of crammed together tower blocks will loom over the town for ever while the perpetrators enjoy their country homes, room for their children to play, couple of labradors, veg plot, parking for their collection of German cars. This is just wrong."/>
