Comments	<input type="text" value="The plans for 10/11 storey flats are not acceptable for the ethos of a garden city. Houses are the best type of dwelling for people to live in with gardens and green space around them - the type of town which Ebenezer Howard designed. This number of dwellings is to many for the size of site and is also not sustainable for the facilities in this town, water supplies, GP's, hospital and education. Blocks of flats are extremely unattractive. The whole area will resemble the depressing areas of Moscow Have we learnt nothing from the towers blocks which were built in the 1960's became ghettos and derelict. More recently have been pulled down. Flats are not convivial to fostering any community, and this should not be consented to"/>
