Morning,

Going through the application again this morning I see my response is missing. I emailed Clare in January, but it evidently didn't send and got lost somewhere. I'm afraid at the time I didn't notice and cannot now find the email so am sending a note now.

Obviously I don't expect you to be able to backdate this to January, but it should be on record that I am stating an objection on the grounds that the development is disproportionate to its setting when all other close by developments are taken into consideration. I believe it constitutes over development of too small an area.

Many thanks,

Tamsin
