Comments	<input type="text" value="The proposals goes against the ethos of the Garden City we proudly live in. I moved here only 2 years ago for these values and it would drive myself and many others away from the town to see it built up this way. It's a densely populated proposal with no green space and high rises well above the council recommended level. It doesn't work with the core of our community and is a shocking first view of the town when people arrive via the train station."/>
