| Comments | <input type="text" value="As anyone thought about the footfall using the train station. If you build 1100 flats/housing that's a possible 1100+ using the station which is at full capacity. Why not get in touch with Network Rail and spend some money on modernising for example making the footbridge bigger moving the barriers from the bottom of the stairs which are on the wrong place, longer platforms, improve the toilet facilities. And the upkeep of stations"/> |
