Comments	<input type="text" value="Welwyn GARDEN City was designed specifically to be a mix of housing and industry to suit all needs of the residents. There were no buildings of more than 4 stories in height and the housing was interspersed with greens and trees. This new development is completely out of character with the concepts of Sir Ebenezer Howard - who would turn in his grave to have his 75th WGC anniversary roundel place within this or the other two developments proposed."/>
