Comments	<input type="text" value="It is completely against the ethos of a garden city. The buildings are too tall (above the councils own recommendation of 5 stories) to the extent that they will dominate the surrounding area. There is insufficient green space for a garden city. A build of this scale will not have the infrastructure to support it. High rise flats didn't work in the 60s & 70s, they won't work now."/>
