Comments	<input type="text" value="The original approach to the Wheat Quarter redevelopment took a sensitive approach to reinvigorating this part of Welwyn Garden City. This amended proposal with overpowering tower blocks, which obscure the original iconic shredded wheat factory is insensitive and the height of the buildings is out of keeping with the rest of the town. I am concerned about the additional traffic to the town centre, the lack of parking space as well as the scale of the redevelopment."/>
