Comments	<input type="text" value="The buildings are not in keeping with a garden city concept which is why residents enjoy living in the town and remain living in the town. The buildings are too tall and will result in too many residents in a small area without the necessary infrastructure in place such as medical provisions such as a fit for purpose full scale hospital and doctors surgeries. The current schools nearby the development are already oversubscribed therefore schooling will become an issue for all residents."/>
