Comments	<input type="text" value="Very unsightly and not in keeping with a garden city. Breaking all the rules not to build high. No parking implies it is to attract commuters to London. Given covid will have reduced these commuters I think this is now obsolete and the planning authority need to get their Mr Howard hats on to come up with a nice plan to match the greens on the other side. We do not want a Croydon in the centre. Lacking natural light and the buildings would look poor in a matter of only a few years."/>
