Comments	<input type="text" value="And how is this application in any way fit with the WGC ethos. There are so many things wrong with it, but lets stick to the main points. The height of the buildings are not in keeping with the town, they are a breeding ground for criminal activity, this I have seen in less dense London developments. There is limited parking, so the cars will spill onto surrounding areas, making the lives of those areas a misery. Schools are at capacity already, where are the being build for all ages. This project is out of the price range of most locals, so it will import people from London, so will also impact all health services, Lister is already too small and overworked to cope with all these projects are bringing into Hertfordshire. The town was built with the idea of a mixture of houses with gardens, flats for those who would prefer that, local shops and green areas and play spaces. This is flats flats and more flats crammed into as tight area as possible for maximum greedy profits"/>
