Comments	<input type="text" value="I welcome development of this site but I object to the current plans. Where is the historical reference? Why does it have to be 10 stories high. We don't have the infrastructure to support these homes? Why not build some houses with gardens? A primary school? Some recreational space? Enhance the area not degrade it? What about sharing the quota for new homes with other lesser developed areas of the county such as Brookman's Park. We are a garden city and should remain so. This just makes a mockery of the planners and its embarrassing you think existing residents will standby and allow this excess number of homes to be built. The clue is in the name. Welwyn Garden City, give each home their own garden. Celebrate our roots, plant some new family shoots we can all be proud of. What will your legacy be? Don't let it be 10 floors of flats. I object!"/>
