Comments	<input type="text" value="Don't object to the improvement of the site and the addition of residential accomodation. The problem is the height of the proposed developments and the related residential density. Unfortunately a 10 story development is not in keeping with the town and does not align with its founding principles. It would be nice to find a better balance between the 'garden' and the 'city' with a skyline undulating to rhythms of nature rather than the brutalism of high rise blocks."/>
