Comments	<input type="text" value="I think it is very sad that this type of building plan would be thought up for a Garden City. High rise flats are unattractive and take away from the green side to Welwyn Garden City. There are so many families desperate for houses and these won't help. This seems to be all about helping London commuters and no thought to people who need housing. This will be the end of this town as a Garden City if this application goes through."/>
