Comments	<input type="text" value="Where is the research evidence demonstrating that this car Park is necessary? Given the demonstrable changes in shopping, commuting and working habits, sufficient parking already exists and this is evidently under utilised. It will become an expensive white elephant. This car Park will not stop John Lewis closing in the short to medium term. Why add additional parking in a residential conservation area when several more suitable sites exist? This development will destroy the supposedly protected 'green and pleasant' centre of the garden city. The campus street scene will be devastated. It is incredible that these proposals have got this far."/>
